

Composting

We have a large composting display and a small model. The large version is stored in a brown box for transportation. It seperates into three different versions of potential composting methods.

The smaller version is easy to transport but does not show the various options.

There are articles on our web site under the “Want to Know More” section.